FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Muze Announces Launch of Revolutionary Hiring Platform
Transforming the Music Industry with a Cutting-Edge Digital Marketplace

Nashville, TN – Muze, the pioneering music-tech startup based in Nashville, is thrilled to announce the highly anticipated launch of their Pro Hiring Platform. This groundbreaking service-based marketplace is set to revolutionize the way musicians collaborate, create, and access essential services, connecting artists with top-tier professionals in the music industry.

Built on principles of quality, simplicity, and collaboration, Muze empowers artists to discover and hire the perfect professionals tailored to their unique vision and project requirements. The platform provides a user-friendly interface that streamlines the hiring process, enabling artists to effortlessly browse through an extensive catalog of vetted professionals, review portfolios, listen to samples, and connect directly with their chosen experts. On the platform is a vibrant community of audio engineers, musicians, graphic designers, songwriters, artist coaches, social media managers, and more, offering a comprehensive one-stop solution for artists' needs.

"We are excited to introduce Muze to the music industry," said Baxter Brown, CEO of Muze.

"Our mission is to connect artists with a community that caters to their unique needs. Muze simplifies the process of finding and hiring music professionals, allowing artists to focus on their true passion – creating exceptional music."

What sets Muze apart is its unwavering commitment to quality and integrity. Every professional on the platform undergoes a rigorous vetting process, ensuring a pool of highly skilled and experienced individuals dedicated to delivering exceptional results. The platform operates on a transparent commission model, with professionals earning a 10% commission on successful project collaborations as a testament to their expertise.

Muze has already garnered significant attention from industry experts who applaud its innovative approach to bridging the gap between artists and music professionals. Within its opening weekend, the company attracted over 250 signups, showcasing the immense interest and excitement surrounding the platform's launch. Musicians worldwide can now look to Muze as the go-to destination for empowering their creative visions and bringing them to life.

About Muze

Muze is a Nashville-based music-tech startup that has been making waves in the music industry since its launch in May 2021. Originally founded as a platform for musicians to connect, collaborate, start bands, join bands, expand their current bands, and jam, Muze quickly gained traction as a unique and innovative platform that worked similarly to a dating app but specifically tailored to the needs of musicians.

Building upon the success and popularity of its original concept, Muze has now expanded into a comprehensive service-based marketplace, expanding its offerings to meet the diverse needs of musicians and professionals in the music industry. While the original platform remains intact, serving as a space for musicians to connect and form bands, the addition of the new service marketplace provides an exciting opportunity for users to further enhance their music projects by connecting with other professionals in the industry.
